Who Will Be Champion During 1920-21 Seasons Is Heard From Coast to Coast

Who will be the king of the wrestling game the coming season, now that Jack Curley is laid up with a nervous affliction? That is the query that is bothering the grappling fans and the matmen too. Curley kep! interest in the mat game at the fever pitch every winter in New York, and while he was frequently charged with operating the sport to suit himself, the wrestlers came to look upon him as the only man qualified to handle their game efficiently.

With Stanislaus Zbyszko hurling challenges at Champion Joe Stecher almost daily, and with Earl Caddock working out with a view to trying to retrieve the crown about the holidays.
It looks as though some impressario is overlooking a liet in not stepping into Curley splace in America's metropolis.
Curley had planned another tournament for the coming winter. He made his plans after Georges Carpentier returned to France last spring. It was his intention to interest every heavyweight grappler in the game, and to reward the winner of the meet with an opportunity to clash with Stecher.
Champion Stecher gave his consent to the arrangement.

But late advices from Curley's home

Champion Stecher gave his consent to the arrangement.

But late advices from Curley's home do not encourage those who hope to see him at the head of the sport. Although there is much improvement in Curley's condition, he is said to be fur from perfect health and just as far from being able to handle the details of a wrestling fournament such as he has staged in New York on several occasions.
